PROFILE

From the moment I first created a personalized version of an IRC messenger (year 1.999) to writing modern JavaScript code in 2022, I have to say programming has been a lifelong passion. Currently developing modern and performatic PWA apps, I'm excited to use my skills for creating meaningful apps that generate value and revenue.

Below you'll find some projects I've completed that showcase my skills and general background software development.
